

Distinguished Speaker Series

OCTOBER 17, 2008 – CHILDRESS MEMORIAL LECTURE

Sandra H. Johnson

Emerita Professor, Saint Louis University School of Law

After a 30-year career at Saint Louis University School of Law, Sandra Johnson is now Emerita Professor of Law and Health Care Ethics. Johnson's scholarship has helped form the field of health law. The casebook she co-authored in 1987, Health Law: Cases, Materials and Problems, was the first to use the title of "health law." Now in its 6th edition, the book has been used in more than 150 universities in the U.S. Johnson is also co-author of the treatise Health Law. The casebook and treatise have been cited over 500 times in scholarly articles and court opinions, including three citations by the U.S. Supreme Court. Her work on regulatory issues in pain management has had a significant impact on research and public policy. She directed the Mayday Project at the American Society of Law, Medicine & Ethics (ASLME) for 10 years and developed the Mayday Scholars Program, which provided funding to encourage legal scholars to address issues related to improving pain management. Professor Johnson is co-editor-in-chief of the Journal of Law, Medicine & Ethics, a position she continues to hold, and is a Fellow of the Hastings Center. She served as president of the ASLME in 1995-1996. She was honored as the Woman of the Year by the St. Louis Daily Record in 2002; Woman of the Year by Saint Louis University in 1997; and received the Distinguished Health Law Teacher Award from the American Society of Law & Medicine in 1991.

Other scholars will include:

Scott Burris, Professor of Law, Temple University Beasley School of Law

Robert A. Burt, Alexander M. Bickel Professor of Law, Yale Law School

Diane Hoffmann, Associate Dean for Academic Programs, Director, Law and Health Care Program, Professor of Law, University of Maryland School of Law

Robert L. Schwartz, Professor of Law, University of New Mexico School of Law

William M. Sage, Vice Provost for Health Affairs, James R. Dougherty Chair for Faculty Excellence, University of Texas School of Law

Election
2008

OCTOBER 30, 2008

PRE-ELECTION HEALTH POLICY AND POLITICS FORUM

Moderator: Professor Thomas L. Greaney

The Health Policy Forum will discuss the intersection of politics and health policy from experts representing both sides of the aisle.

Katherine Hayes

Vice President, Health Policy, Jennings Policy Strategies, Inc.

Prior to joining Jennings Policy Strategies, Inc., Katherine Hayes served as health counsel to Senator Evan Bayh of Indiana. Her accomplishments include the enactment of legislation to expand the availability of home- and community-based long-term care services for the elderly and individuals with disabilities, to increase private long-term care insurance options and to expand consumer protections in private long-term care insurance. Hayes also served as legislative assistant to the late Senator John H. Chafee (RI). During her tenure, she assisted in the development of the Senate Mainstream Coalition health reform proposal. She also worked to ensure passage of legislation establishing Federally Qualified Health Centers and reasonable-cost reimbursement to those centers under the Medicare and Medicaid programs, severing the link between welfare and Medicaid as part of 1996 welfare reform legislation. Most recently, she helped develop Hillary Clinton's health reform plan.

Mark Hayes

Staff Director, Senate Finance Committee Health Subcommittee

JANUARY 27, 2009

Timothy Westmoreland

Visiting Professor of Law, Georgetown University, Senior Scholar, Georgetown Health Law Institute, Research Professor of Public Policy, Georgetown Public Policy Institute

Professor Westmoreland holds academic posts in law and public policy at Georgetown University and was recently named Senior Scholar of the Georgetown Health Law Institute. He served as counsel to the Subcommittee on Health and the Environment in the U.S. House of Representatives from 1979 to 1995. Westmoreland taught in the Georgetown Law Center's Federal Legislation Clinic and was counsel to the Koop-Kessler Advisory Committee on Tobacco Policy and Public Health. He was senior adviser on HIV/AIDS to the Kaiser Family Foundation and lobbied for the Elizabeth Glaser Pediatric AIDS Foundation. From 1999 until 2001, he was the director of the Federal Medicaid program. At Georgetown, he teaches about health law, federal budget policy, and legislation and statutory interpretation. He is a recipient of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation's Investigator in Health Policy Research Award.

FEBRUARY 17, 2009

Eleanor DeArman Kinney

Hall Render Professor of Law, Co-Director of the William S. and Christine S. Hall Center for Law and Health, Indiana University
Eleanor D. Kinney is one of the nation's leading experts on health law. After earning her master's degree in public health, she served as program analyst for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Prior to joining Indiana University in 1984, she was assistant general counsel of the American Hospital Association. Kinney is a published author and lecturer on America's health care system, medical malpractice, health coverage for the poor and issues in administrative law. She recently published Protecting American Health Care

(Duke University Press, 2002) and edited the Guide to Medicare Coverage Decision-Making and Appeals (ABA Publishing, 2002). Kinney was a consultant to the Administrative Conference of the United States, President Clinton's Task Force for Health Care Reform and the Indiana Commission on Health Care for the Working Poor. She has been appointed by the governor of Indiana to the Executive Board of the Indiana State Department of Health. She currently serves as chair of the Patient Safety Subcommittee of the Indiana Commission on Excellence in Health Care.

MARCH 30, 2009

Michele Bratcher Goodwin

Everett Fraser Professor of Law, University of Minnesota

Goodwin began her teaching career in 2001 at DePaul University College of Law, where she held the Wicklander Chair in Ethics and was a professor of law. She directed the Health Law Institute and founded the Center for the Study of Race & Bioethics. Prior to teaching, Goodwin was a Gilder-Lehrman post-doctoral fellow at Yale University. She focuses her research on property, ownership and identity in the human body. Her recent book, Black Markets: The Supply & Demand of Body Parts (Cambridge University Press, 2006), builds upon scholarship exploring causes of organ shortages and methods to remedy that policy conundrum. Her scholarship debates the significance of moral, ethical and legal norms in transactions involving the human body. In 2003, she was elected Secretary General of the International Academy of Law and Mental Health. She also holds joint appointments in the Medical School and the School of Public Health at Minnesota. She is the Chair Elect of the American Association of Law Schools Section on Law, Medicine, and Health Care and is a fellow of the Institute of Medicine of Chicago.

Practitioner-in-Residence

SEPTEMBER 2008

Susan Stefan

Staff Attorney, Center for Public Representation and Director of the Center's Emergency Department Project

Susan Stefan is a staff attorney at the Center for Public Representation in Newton, Mass., where she directs the Center's Emergency Department Project. She represents people with psychiatric disabilities in system reform litigation and has written three books and numerous articles about legal and policy issues involving people with psychiatric disabilities. Her most recent book is Emergency Department Treatment of People with Psychiatric Disabilities: Policy Issues and Legal Requirements (Oxford University Press, 2006). She served as an expert consultant to the President's New Freedom Commission on Mental Health (2003) and to the Institute of Medicine for its publication, "Improving the Quality of Health Care for Mental and Substance Use Conditions" (2005).

Prior to working for the Center for Public Representation, Stefan was a law professor at the University of Miami School of Law, where she taught disability law and mental health law and litigated a number of cases applying the Americans with Disabilities Act to the rights of people with psychiatric disabilities. She has received numerous advocacy and teaching awards and has testified as an expert witness in several federal court cases. She graduated from Stanford Law School in 1984, received a master's degree from Cambridge University in England in 1981 and graduated from Princeton University in 1980.

Health Care Ethics Distinguished Speaker

OCTOBER 10 2008 – Noon, William H. Kniep Courtroom

Topic: Kidney for Sale by Owner: Human Organs, Transplantation, and the Market

Mark J. Cherry, Ph.D.

Associate professor in the Department of Philosophy at Saint Edward's University in Austin, Texas; co-editor with H. Tristram Engelhardt Jr. of Allocating Scarce Medical Resources; senior associate editor of The Journal of Medicine and Philosophy; senior associate editor of Christian Bioethics; and editor-in-chief of HealthCare Ethics Committee Forum (HEC Forum).

Health Law Symposium

SAVE THE DATE: MARCH 20, 2009

This year, we will gather leading experts and scholars in the field to discuss the emerging legal, ethical and social issues of living in the genetic age.

For more information about the Center for Health Law speakers and events, go to law.slu.edu/healthlaw.

Distinguished Speaker Series

Beginning in 2000, the Center formally instituted a Distinguished Speaker Series. As the Series continues, our students and faculty benefit from the speakers' diversity of perspectives and opinions. In addition to gaining the participation of the country's leading health law scholars, our Distinguished Speaker Series has attracted former Vermont Governor and Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, Howard Dean; former FDA Chief Counsel, Daniel Troy; Vice-President for Health and Reproductive Rights for the National Women's Law Center, Judy Waxman; Commissioner for the Federal Trade Commission, Tim Leary; Principal Research Associate with the Urban Institute, Randall Bovbjerg; Deputy Administrator and Chief Operations Officer, Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, Leslie Norwalk; and Executive Vice President and Chief Executive Officer, American Health Law Association, Peter Liebold.

The experience continues in 2008–2009 and is sure to be valuable to students and faculty again as this year's Distinguished Speakers share their insights on a variety of current topics.

Practitioner-in-Residence

The Center's Practitioner-in-Residence Program allows a health law attorney to visit the School of Law each year. The time in residence provides the practitioner the opportunity to reflect on the practice of law while offering students and faculty insight into current practice trends in his or her health speciality. Past practitioners include Timothy P. Blanchard, '86, Malcolm J. Harkins III, '76, Vence Bonham, Cliff Barnes and Beth Schermer.

Distinguished Speakers

2000–2001

Randall R. Bovbjerg
Nancy Neveloff Dubler
Joan H. Krause
Theodore R. Marmor
Robert L. Schwartz

2001–2002

Thomas B. (Tim) Leary
Susan M. Wolf
John T. (Jack) Boese
Michael Jacobs
Arti K. Rai

2002–2003

Howard Dean
Daniel Troy
Maxwell J. Mehlman
Dana Bowen Matthew
Judy Waxman

2003–2004

John R. Hellow
Leslie Norwalk
William Sage
Jack Schwartz
Judith Daar

2004–2005

George Annas
Mary Crossley
Russell Korobkin
Peter Liebold
Larry Palmer

2005–2006

Alex Azar
Gregg Bloche
Catherine Hanssens
John Jacobi
Jay Wolfson

2006–2007

Kathleen Boozang
David O. Meltzer
Pamela H. Bucy
Peter D. Jacobson
William A. Sarraille

2007–2008

Gregory M. Luce
Rep. Connie L. Johnson
Wendy K. Mariner
Timothy P. Blanchard

CENTER FOR HEALTH LAW STUDIES

Saint Louis University's Center for Health Law Studies represents the University's sustained commitment to education, research, policy analysis, publication and service. The Center leverages the expertise the School has developed over the past 20 years of health law teaching and research. The Center is home to the Saint Louis University Journal of Health Law & Policy and the nation's premier health law program, with the most robust and celebrated health law curriculum in the country. For further information go to law.slu.edu/healthlaw.

SAINT LOUIS UNIVERSITY

School of Law
3700 Lindell Blvd., Rm. 158
St. Louis, MO 63108

CENTER FOR HEALTH LAW STUDIES

Programs and Speakers

2008–2009
ACADEMIC YEAR

3700 Lindell Boulevard
St. Louis, MO 63108
314.977.3067
law.slu.edu/healthlaw

SAINT LOUIS UNIVERSITY
SCHOOL OF LAW